SCIENTIFIC NOTES.

"Argentol" is the name of a new alloy intended to be used as a substitute for silver. It was discovered by W. A. McAdams. It is composed mostly of aluminum, so that while having all the appearance of silver it weighs only one-third as much and will therefore "go that much farther." Ordinarily silver and aluminum have no affinity for each other and will not make a good alloy, but by adding certain chemicals the union of the two is produced. The alloy is stronger than silver and is neither attacked by alkalis as aluminum is, nor by acids as silver is. It can be used for everything that silver is used for and being much cheaper it should furnish a very valuable alloy.

RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS RELIEVED.

Rheumatic pains are aggravated by cold, damp weather and many hard-working, middle-aged people are made miserable during much of the winter and spring months by reason of this. Their suffering may be very much relieved, and in many cases permanently, by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm and massaging the parts with the palm of the hand at each application. This relieves the pain and makes sleep and rest possible. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.
